- 1 If David weren't dead, Harold and Maureen would/might be happy.
- 2 If Rex's wife were alive, he would not be lonely.
- 3 If Queenie had not taken the blame for Harold, she would stay in Devon.
- 4 If Harold had not received Queenie's letter, he would not start his pilgrimage.
- 5 If the girl in the petrol station had not visited Maureen, she would not go to find Harold.
- 6 If Maureen had told Harold about Queenie's visit, she would not feel sorry now.

3 Model answers:

	Who says this?	Who to?	When?	Why?
	Rex	Harold	at the start of his pilgrimage	because he is lonely
	The girl in the petrol station	Harold	just as he starts his journey	to help him understand how to help someone get better from cancer
	Harold's mum	Harold	when she left him and his father	because it was the last thing she ever said to him
	Martina	Harold	when she sees him falling outside her house	because she is a doctor and she wants to help him

	Who says this?	Who to?	When?	Why?
	Maureen	Rex	she saw the TV reports about the pilgrims	because she felt angry with them
	Harold	Queenie	when he goes to see her in the hospice	because he has come to say goodbye to her before she dies

4 Model answers:

- 1 I decided to go and see Queenie before she died. The girl in the petrol station gave me the idea.
- 2 Your mother spent some time with Rex, talking about all our problems.
- 3 Your mother and I met in a café in Darlington and had a cup of tea and a chat.
- 4 The pilgrims that I met on my walk went to Berwick without me and they were on the TV news.
- 5 I was so cold and lonely that I wanted to stop walking, but your mother booked me a hotel room.
- 6 I said goodbye to Queenie in the hospice and the nurses said she died peacefully after that.
